Grayling's New City Charter

(By Clarence V. Smazel, Michigan Municipal League)

So that citizens of Grayling will understand the changes made in the new city charter by comparison with village government, the principal differences are here analyzed under the titles of the four chapters of the charter as published.

Citizens should know that members of the charter commission examined a large number of charters and spent many hours discussing the various possible provisions before deciding upon those finally approved. While assisting in the drafting of more than twenty-five charters I have never encountered a group more genuinely interested than Grayling's charter commission in securing the best results for the community. Frequently members of charter commissions permit their interest in individuals holding positions in the village government to influence the provisions of the new city charter, resulting in less efficient government for a generation or more in order to temporarily benefit one or a few individuals.

Because of this constructive attitude, the technical staff of the Michigan Municipal League feels that it can recommend this charter to citizens of Grayling most heartily and without any reservation. It constitutes the best government we know how to set up for a city. If at any time any change is needed, the charter can be amended by a vote of the people at any regular or special election; and both the council and the people themselves have the right under state law to place charter amendments on the ballot.

Governmental Organization.
The first noticeable change in the new charter is that the council will consist of five members, who will elect a chairman to be mayor, instead of a president and six councilmen. The mayor will vote on every issue just as every other member of the council, so citizens will know where their mayor stands on any question coming before the council.

Citizens who have had experience with group meetings will quickly realize that the smaller the group the faster it can do its work, because there are fewer minds to arrive at a common understanding or conclusion. Mayor Mark Sugden of Saline, the first small city to adopt this plan, almost five years ago, regards the smaller council as one of the outstanding advantages of city incorporation because of this feature.

In addition to having an organization which works faster, the council is ordinarily of better quality because business men and other leading citizens feel that they can give their time where the work of the council is done promptly and members of the council do not have to look after details between meetings.

In addition to that, in a community as small as Grayling the number of best qualified citizens who will serve on the council is somewhat limited, so that the service which these citizens will give will be extended over a longer period of years when only five instead of seven are serving at the same time.

Permitting the council to choose the mayor has several advantages. It always assures a smoothly working council, and gives much greater assurance than popular election of having the best man on the council as mayor. Frequently electors choose a mayor because of some other reason for personal popularity than his qualifications as head of the municipal government, resulting in constant differences between the mayor and council, or less competent leadership for the city than would be available for among five council members. Since the mayor is by state law a member of the county board, it may be desirable to have the mayor elected by the council because then he can be removed from the county board at any time if he begins to play politics for personal benefits, instead of looking after the interests of the municipality, as sometimes happens.

The provisions for a city manager are undoubtedly the most important change from village government in the entire charter. Section 6 distinctly divides the city government into two divisions, policy forming and administrative. The first gives the council complete control over all questions of policy, legislation, the budget, and the hiring of a city manager, who can be discharged at any time he does not efficiently perform the functions of his office.

Under this plan the manager must be given complete control of the whole force working for the city. The council tells him what it wants done and how much money there is to do it with, and then he does it to the satisfaction of the council or the city gets a new manager. If he were not given complete control of the administrative service of the city he could not be held completely responsible for its operation. Any minor officer elected by the people or any employee appointed by the council might refuse to cooperate and the manager would be unable to do anything about it.

While this plan differs widely from the present village government, it is generally recognized (Continued on last page)

Lone Gunman Tries Local Bank Holdup

LATER CAPTURED IN ROSCOMMON. NOW IN JAIL.

The city was in quite a frenzy of excitement Tuesday afternoon when a lone bandit attempted to hold up the Grayling State Savings Bank. He was foiled in his effort and is now in Crawford County jail. He gave his name as George Miller and address as 989 American street, Detroit, and age as 21 next Saturday.

Investigation proved that there was no such number on American street, and he later gave his name as Lloyd Lanning and said he was a high school graduate of Flint. Authorities are awaiting comparison of fingerprints in order to further determine his identity.

Lanning had been seen hanging around the bank just before closing hour. Mrs. Schweitzer was the last person to enter the bank where she made her deposit for Schweitzer & Wilson. As she was leaving Miss Margrethe Nielsen, cashier of the bank, accompanied her to the door which she intended to lock. As Mrs. Schweitzer came thru the door the bandit crowded his way in. Miss Nielsen said to him that he was too late. The bandit replied "No I'm not" and Miss Nielsen was quickly looking down the barrel of an automatic.

George Schroeder, assistant cashier, quickly stepped on the automatic alarm, rushed to close the vault door and turned upon the bandit with an automatic. In his excitement the automatic jammed but he kept the bandit covered until the latter finally made his escape.

The latter boarded a passing freight train and it was claimed that he was seen getting off on the opposite side. The train was just starting and, if he did get off, he soon got back on. Deputy Sheriff Frank May and George Schroeder were awaiting the train as it arrived in Roscommon and had no trouble in capturing him. He was brought to the jail in Grayling where he now awaits trial in circuit court.

In an interview with Lanning he claimed that this was his first attempt at banditry. He said he came to Grayling that forenoon. When asked why he got frightened out he replied "Anyone would get out if he saw he was covered by a big automatic."

Lanning told Sheriff Bennett he was driven to attempt the robbery because he was out of work, and had not been able to support his wife of less than a year, who is expecting to be a mother in September. It has also been learned by authorities that his step-father, a Mr. Pool, is employed in the main office of the Buick Motor Company in Flint.

At the hearing yesterday morning Lanning was bound over to the July term of Circuit court for trial, charged with attempted robbery armed.

John Bruun, manager of the bank was in Saginaw on business for the bank at the time of the attempted hold-up. In an interview with him upon his return he stated that all money and securities in the bank are under time-lock and that at no time could anyone possibly get more than a few hundred dollars. The bank's bonds and securities are on deposit in a bank in Saginaw. Besides all the precautions for safety, the bank is fully protected by the strongest kind of burglary insurance.

Not a shot was fired and no money lost but there were a couple of frightened people in the bank that afternoon. Otherwise the experience cost nothing and may be a valuable lesson to the employees of the bank.

MANCERONA ANNUAL J-HOP

A southern garden, surrounded by swaying cottonwoods, beneath twinkling stars and jolly Mr. Moon, furnishes the theme of the affair of the year, planned by the Junior class of the Mancelona High school.

The date for the party has been set for Friday, May 10th. The music will be furnished by the popular Miami Loona, an eight-piece colored orchestra. The public is cordially invited to attend. The hours for the prom are from nine until one o'clock.

Correction to Notice of May 2 Nominations for City Offices Close

Fri. May 17, 5 p. m.

Under provisions of the proposed new city charter, nominations for city offices must be filed not later than Friday, May 17, 5 P. M. The following officers will be elected: Five councilmen, one justice of the peace, and one constable.

Blank petitions are available at the office of the Village Clerk, E. L. Sparkes, and must be filed in his office not later than Friday, May 17, 1935.

Legion Jottings

The Drum & Bugle Corps went to West Branch last Sunday morning to take part in the parade at the Trout Festival. After waiting for the rain to stop for a period of nearly four hours, the parade was held. Nevertheless we went to represent our city and hope that we accomplished the good faith of our neighboring one.

On Sunday evening the Corps held their ball at Johnson's Rustic Dance Palace. In spite of it being cold, we had a fair crowd and those who did brave the weather said they had a wonderful time. To much cannot be said of the courtesy of Mr. Johnson in letting our Post rent his place for the opening night and we only hope we could have another chance on a comfortable night when we could draw a larger crowd. On every hand we heard praise for the fine music furnished by the famous Maurice Ruschlow's 10-piece orchestra, of Saginaw. They sure have a wonderful band and they have an organization to be proud of. The Corps wishes to thank all the people who attended and only wish to have another with a bigger patronage.

Comrades Alfred Hanson, Earl Hewitt, Alvin LaChapelle and Harold Hatfield went to Traverse City Saturday night on business for the Corps, returning early Sunday morning.

Monday night the Corps had another workout at their hall and several of our boys were missing. Be there next time buddies.

Tonight the next drill will be held and all members are requested to be present. Immediately after practice several things of great importance will come up. Don't forget to be there.

One big event on the program of the opening of the Homecoming is the Northeastern Michigan band tournament on July 14, when ten bands from Northeastern Michigan will be here for the opening date. This, together with the bands from the State Military camp, should give the folk plenty of music, and if they can't, the Corps can make a

Appointed Better Housing Chairman

T. P. PETERSON HEADS LOCAL COMMITTEE

Detroit, Mich. May 2, 1935.

Mr. T. P. Peterson, Grayling, Michigan, Dear Mr. Peterson:

It is with great pleasure that I confirm your appointment as general chairman of the Better Housing Program Committee for Grayling, Michigan, which will function under the Federal Housing Administration.

It is understood that you will be actively supported in this cause by the business, professional and civic groups in your community.

We assure you the constant cooperation of this office and have confidence that the effect of your organization will bring to Grayling the full benefits of the National Housing Act.

Sincerely yours,
Raymond M. Foley,
State Director Federal Housing Administration.

little more noise than we want is cooperation and good weather for the eight days of the Homecoming, July 14 to 21.

It is funny that when a man is eligible to belong to the American Legion he is always going to join, but several men who are not, would give their right arm to belong, and can't. Do it now, Buddy.

Any ex-service men who want to play instruments and join our Corps are asked to show up tonight, Thursday, at the hall at 7:00 o'clock sharp and talk things over. Some of our best players are ones who thought they could not learn. Come out and let us hear from you.

The Auxiliary will hold their regular business meeting next Tuesday evening.

Don't forget the address to be given at the school auditorium May 22 by O. I. Gregg, of M.S.C. on the subject of "Landscape Architecture," at 8 o'clock.

Weekly Pay Checks A Feature Of Big Prize Campaign Announced Today.

Here is an announcement extraordinary for the people of Grayling and the surrounding territory:

In a subscription campaign announced today and lasting just a few short weeks, the Crawford Avalanche will give away a beautiful Chevrolet coach, a Crosley-Shepherd refrigerator, weekly pay checks and generous bonuses. Everyone who takes part will win something—there will be no losers!

The recipients of these splendid prizes and pay checks will be men and women of this community who will receive them as rewards for obtaining new and renewal subscriptions for this newspaper.

Perhaps you have already heard rumors of this campaign. Now you can have the complete facts. Turn to pages four and five of this paper, and you will have before you complete and comprehensive details of the entire plan of the campaign. Read them carefully, and learn how YOU can win that Chevrolet coach.

Here is an opportunity to make your spare time pay big dividends. The least any entrant can make is a commission check each Saturday night—one dollar out of every five dollars collected—and six of those who remain active and energetic to the end will receive extra bonuses and prizes, topped by the Chevrolet coach, all in accordance with the rules and regulations in the big advertisement.

Get in now. It costs nothing to enter. The earlier a start is made, the faster the votes will pile up. The campaign is open to all men and women, and to boys and girls of the more ambitious sort, with spare time on their hands and a desire to add to their weekly income and perhaps with an automobile for themselves.

The entry coupon in the big ad is the first step toward success. Fill it out and bring it to the campaign department, Crawford Avalanche, at Grayling. If you cannot call in person, telephone or write to the campaign manager at the Avalanche office, and he will call on you and tell you how to get started in your work.

The campaign will be under the direction of Everett H. Smith, field manager for the Liner Circulation Service, with headquarters in the Tribune Tower at Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Smith arrived here the first of this week, and will remain throughout the entire campaign.

Read the announcement of the campaign carefully—and then get busy! No investment of any sort is expected from you, and no special experience or talent is required. Nothing is needed but a desire to earn that weekly pay check or to win the Chevrolet coach at the end of this short, easy and interesting campaign.

In the announcement you will find all of the simple rules governing the campaign, a complete outline of the awards, and the schedule of credits, which will remain exactly as announced throughout the campaign. The plan is simple—clear—easy. There is nothing hidden or mysterious. Everything is outlined fully for you in the opening announcement.

The main thing is to start immediately. Don't wait until the other fellow has the "jump" on you. Obey that impulse now. Sign the entry coupon at once—today—and then get busy!

Talk things over with the campaign manager, and ask his advice on any questions on which you are not clear. He is here to direct and assist you. Make him your confidant as you would your lawyer or your banker. Plan your work with his suggestions and assistance.

Work persistently, intelligently and aggressively. The chance of a lifetime is within your grasp. Don't overlook this opportunity in which your pay is absolutely guaranteed. The chance to secure dazzling awards within the space of a few short weeks is in your hands. What will you do with it?

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE OF AVALANCHE REDUCED DURING CAMPAIGN

For the period of the subscription campaign announced in this issue of the paper, there will be a reduction in the price of the Avalanche, which sells regularly at $1.75 a year in Crawford and Roscommon counties and at $2.00 a year elsewhere.

During the campaign the price will be as follows:

Crawford-Roscommon
One Year	$1.50
Two Years	3.00
Five Years	7.50
Elsewhere in U. S.
One Year	$1.75
Two Years	3.50
Five Years	8.75

These prices apply to both renewals and new subscriptions. Now is the time to pay up your paper and save!

The subscription price positively will be returned to the regular $1.75 and $2.00 level at the end of this subscription campaign.

AIRPLANE BRINGS SPORTS MEN TO LOVELLS

Raymond Gaver, in his Waco-A, bringing his father from Columbus, Ohio, landed in a field beside the hotel. Dr. Earl Gaver, father of the pilot, thinks it the ideal method to take a weekend fishing trip, since you can fly to Lovells in three hours from down in Ohio or Indiana.

Mrs. Douglas has had fences removed and fields smoothed out so that landing a plane there is ideal.

A plan is now on to have at least a group from the coming air tour of Michigan, to land at Lovells for a day or two of fishing. Gaver expects to be in that group with his plane. The landing field at Lovells is 1400 feet long and 1000 feet wide.

The wells for the new water-works were completed by A. Funck Saturday night and now the ditch-digging is in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanson returned Tuesday from a pleasure trip that took them to various places in the south. They were gone for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wells and family spent Sunday in Wolverine visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fuller. Burton Perry accompanied them and visited his sister, Mrs. Melvin Culham.

Miss Virginia Phelps returned to her home in Detroit Monday night after spending a week with Evelyn Sorenson. The young lady is the youngest daughter of Sam Phelps, Jr., and the family were formerly residents of Grayling.

Sunday, May 12th, is hospital day and the Sisters of Mercy of Grayling hospital respectfully invite all adult persons to come and inspect the hospital that afternoon. All will be welcome and it is hoped that a large number will come.

Crawford County Tax Commission will meet at the Court-house next Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock. The following compose this commission: William Ferguson, Mrs. Edith Payne, C. J. McNamara, Alfred Hummel, H. F. Peterson.

Mrs. Peter Cygowski passed away at her home here Wednesday, having returned the forepart of last week from Gaylord, where she had been a patient at the hospital there since January. Her illness was such that it was incurable. Mrs. Manning of Elkhart, Indiana, came to be at the bedside of her sister. The remains were taken to Alba, the family's former home, for interment. The family have not been residents of Grayling very long. The husband and five children survive.

Miss Mildred Towsley, of Detroit, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hurl Deckrow from Sunday to Wednesday of this week. She, with her uncle, Judge Stiles, of Detroit, came to Grayling frequently for the fishing and hunting and Miss Towsley was justly proud of seventeen beautiful trout caught by herself on this trip.

Mothers Day Sunday, May 12th. If you have a mother be sure to help make that day a little more cheerful for her than usual. Your mother—the best friend you ever had—will love your cheery messages and be glad again to feel that her boys and girls still love her. And what could be nicer than a bouquet of her favorite flowers.

Floyd Taylor, who has been in Paw Paw for several weeks, returned to Grayling Saturday and was accompanied by his wife, the former Mrs. Violet Nichols. The marriage took place at Paw Paw, her former home. They will soon be settled in one of Mr. Taylor's houses and will make their home here. The Avalanche joins Floyd's many friends in extending best wishes.

Little girls are quite imitators of their grownup mamma's, and with the ladies continually going to club the young misses naturally must have a club also, and with officers too. So a skating club was organized, with the following officers: Pres. Nell Wehn; Vice Pres. Billieann Clippert; Sec. Janie Milnes; Treas. Betty Sparkes. The club has four members.

John Bruun was in Saginaw Tuesday on business.

Wilhelm Raab left Tuesday for Lansing on business.

Virgil Garver is now working at Jappe Smith's gas station.

Louis Malone has rented the Harold Jarmin gas station on the Junk line.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kessler are grieving the loss of a daughter born Tuesday.

May 25th has been set by the Legion Auxiliary for their annual poppy sale.

Dwight Mills has been added to the A. & P. clerking force. He began his duties Monday.

Mrs. Lyle Wooney of Onaway was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Miller from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Edward Sorenson has purchased the Schow house, now occupied by the Stanley Smith family.

Miss Margaret Cassidy of Lansing and Paul Jones of Detroit were week end guests of Mrs. Thomas Cassidy.

Lt. and Mrs. Mark Shovar left Wednesday for Ohio. From there Mrs. Shovar is going to visit in Mississippi.

Vernor Rasmussen was hit in the head by a stone while fishing down by the bridge Tuesday. The cut is not serious.

Lieutenant and Mrs. J. S. Tenney moved yesterday from the A. J. Nelson apartment to spend the summer at Higgins Lake.

Mrs. Chas. McCullough went to Gaylord Monday to be with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Sissons, who passed away Tuesday.

Friends of Mrs. Hans Juhl called Sunday evening to help her celebrate her birthday. During the evening a delicious lunch was served.

Richard Woodbury and Mr. Gibbs of Bay City visited Mrs. Clara McLeod last week. They were fishing while here and both got the limit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wicks and daughter, Mrs. Dorreen Nelson, of Saginaw, have rented the Herbison cottage down river for the summer.

Mrs. D. L. Wurzberg and daughter Kathryn Yvonne, of Rockford, arrived Wednesday to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. Andrew Brown.

Mrs. Minnie Hartley was called to Detroit Sunday night because of the illness of her niece, Olive Belmore. The Belmores were former residents of Grayling.

Rupert Pearsall and family of Roscommon are visiting at the home of Mrs. Pearsall's father, Rudolph Sorenson. Mr. Pearsall is busy re-roofing the Sorenson home.

Kendrick Kimball and J. M. Herriman, newspaper photographers, are in town taking pictures and getting material for publicity for Grayling for the Detroit News.

Mrs. J. S. Raff and son Lionel drove Saturday to Detroit where they will visit a few days. They are planning to fly to Oklahoma from there on account of her father's illness.

Because of the wet ground and snow, the Cycle club held their meeting at Mary Jane Joseph's home last Saturday. Games and a carom tournament were played. Robert Herbison winning the tournament, after which a lunch was served.

Mrs. Eva McIntyre was arrested Saturday charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. The case was brought before Justice Clarence Gross Monday morning and Mrs. McIntyre pleaded guilty. Mrs. McIntyre paid the fine of $25 and costs and was dismissed. Her driver's license was revoked.

Richard Holland, educational director at Hartwick Pines Camp returned to Grayling Monday, bringing his bride with him. The young lady was Miss Mary Elizabeth Hause of Clinton, Mich., and the marriage was solemnized at that place Sunday. Mr. Holland has made many warm friends in Grayling since coming here who extend congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Holland are at home in the Fehr house.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fitzpatrick (Leona Billings) and children of Roscommon, and Mrs. Fitzpatrick's father J. Billings, well known in Grayling, are among the 66 Michigan families who will be leaving next week for Alaska. They have signed contracts with the Rural Rehabilitation corporation of the SERA as pioneers in the big experiment of the Federal government for settlement of the Mantanuska Valley of Alaska. Families are from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and each one will be allotted 40 acres of Alaska farm land, equipped with buildings. The entire party will embark at Seattle on a United States transport for Alaska.

Miss Georgiana Olson and Miss Elizabeth Litch of Mt. Pleasant spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Olson.

Mrs. R. A. VanVleck and Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Ewart of Bellefontaine, Ohio, were in Grayling over the week end looking over the Collins resort property that was recently purchased by the VanVlecks. Work of putting the resort into shape will begin May 15.

Word was received yesterday of the death that morning of Miss Olive Belmore, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belmore of St. Claire Shores, Mich. Her remains will be brought to Grayling and the funeral held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, with services at the Michelson Memorial church. Mrs. Belmore was formerly Ruby Love.

Mrs. Harry J. Connine and Mary Gretchen left Tuesday for Lansing accompanying Mrs. D. Trevegno to visit Melvin Trevegno. Mr. Trevegno, who had spent Monday here, returned to Cadillac.

By way of bidding farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fitzpatrick and the latter's father, John Billings, of Roscommon, Mrs. Russell Vallad and Mrs. Leo Gannon gave a party in their honor at the Vallad residence. The evening was spent playing bridge and pinochle after which a delicious lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick were presented with a lovely set of silver as a farewell gift. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Green of Roscommon were out-of-town guests. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Billings will leave Sunday on the first lap of their long journey to Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fletcher of West Branch called at the Delbert Wheeler home Wednesday enroute to Gaylord.

Mrs. S. D. Dunham and Mrs. Roy Wolcott accompanied the former's daughter, Mrs. Henry Libcke, to Gaylord Friday evening. Mrs. Libcke had been visiting here for several days.

Edward Batway, who recently made his home in Grayling and was employed at the flooring mill passed away at Grace Hospital in Detroit Sunday following a short illness of spinal meningitis.

Sheriff Bennett seems to be a jinx to his fishing companions. Last winter while fishing with George Bielaki they went through the ice at Houghton Lake and just Tuesday he and James Rugby tipped over in their canoe while fishing on the east branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Nelson and daughters Donna and Elaine of Saginaw were week end guests of Misses Margrethe and Olga Nelson.

Camp News

Camp Higgins

One man received second degree burns in a fire that threatened the camp one night last week when it was without water, the pump being broke. The blaze broke out in the state garage but was soon extinguished with chemicals. William Sullivan, who was hurt, is making a rapid recovery, according to the camp surgeon.

Harold Lassen, local enrollee, received a broken knee cap in an auto accident near camp Friday afternoon during the snow storm. He was taken to Mercy Hospital Grayling, after receiving first aid treatment from Dr. Katzman, and on Saturday was sent to Fort Wayne hospital in the ambulance.

Several men have recently received ratings in this organization. Edward Blanchard and James Davis were named leaders; Harold Andrews, Henry Kasten, Ford Robinson, Adam Panek, Charles Winget, William King and Roman Osie, assistant leaders.

A mimeograph machine was purchased recently for use in publishing the camp paper and duplicating of various office forms which are needed but for the printing of which no funds are available.

Every man in this camp has been urged to write home for Mother's Day, May 12th.

Sheriff Bennett of Grayling and Conservation Officer H. G. Aldrich of Roscommon were speakers at an assembly Tuesday night following the chaplain's services.

Hot and cold water has been piped to the hospital, the work being done by recruits.

A consignment of 92 rookies, 20 of them colored, was received last week from Detroit, which brings the company to near its normal strength.

Francis Cote has been transferred to this organization from Camp Pioneer to serve as district utilities inspector.

A conference of educational advisers in the 4th forestry sub-district is scheduled to meet at this place Friday morning, May 17th.

Camp AuSable

Lieutenant Allen went fishing on May first. We had been hearing about this excursion for weeks, and we heard a good deal more around six o'clock that morning. At first we thought the whole company was being evacuated, but inspection showed all men and officers present except the above mentioned. About noon he came home howling with success: the trout was at least ten inches long and the man who ate it said it tasted swell.

From the fisherman's many and various accounts of the conquest we gather that the encounter took place in this wise: After the monster had been hooked, and the reel had come off the pole, and the line was circled several times around the great piscator's neck, and the AuSable was about to drown him in the waters rented from Sorensens, it seems that the trout became confused and saved the day by leaping into the landing net which was waving about like a flag.

In view of his profound and yearly repeated experience in this deep and difficult art, the Lieutenant is going to write a book on trout fishing. He hasn't got quite as far as the first chapter yet, but we are all eagerly awaiting publication.

Other things have happened in camp this last week, but we have been far too preoccupied with fishing to notice anything else.

Mr. G. K. Nixon has been added to our forestry staff this month. Mr. Babycock is back for a while, and a new man, Mr. Godfrey, both engaged in cultural operations.

Peanuts Are Popular

The history of peanuts in America is an interesting one. Up to the time of the Civil war a few peanut plants were grown in gardens of Virginia and the Carolinas for family use and as curiosities. During the war the soldiers found the nuts to be excellent food, with the result that in the years following the end of hostilities the acreage assigned to them steadily increased. But it was not until the peanut thrasher, the mechanical peanut picker and the sheller were invented that they were grown on a large scale.

Senate Committee Defies President and Richberg on NRA Extension—Roosevelt Lists "Must" Bills and Business Opposes Them.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union

DISREGARDING the known wishes of President Roosevelt, the finance committee of the senate adopted and reported for passage a simple resolution continuing the national recovery act until April 1, 1936, and at the same time making these provisions:

1. No price fixing shall be permitted or sanctioned in codes, except in those relating to mineral or natural resources which now have price fixing provisions.

2. No trade embargo in interstate commerce shall be eligible for a code.

3. The President is given specified time in which to review present codes to carry out the conditions laid down in the first two exceptions to the resolution.

Both President Roosevelt and Donald Richberg, head of the NRA, had urged the passage of a new two year NRA bill which would set up a stricter dictatorship over business and industry. The senate finance committee, however, would not consent to this and instead passed the resolution, which was drawn up by Senator Clark of Missouri and approved by Chairman Pat Harrison. Twelve senators first called at the White House and the President seemed willing to accept the continuing resolution until Mr. Richberg came in and protested urgently; whereupon Mr. Roosevelt turned it down. The committee then took the action noted by a vote of 18 to 3, defying both the President and Richberg.

Senator Harrison said he had no doubt the senate would adopt the resolution.

HIGH optimism marked the "fireside chat" which President Roosevelt delivered over the radio to the people of America, which people, he said, are, as a whole, "feeling a lot better—a lot more cheerful than for many, many years."

He asserted we are already on the unimistakable march toward recovery, and told how he means to promote the return to normal conditions with his works relief program. He promised to put to work three and a half million persons now on the relief rolls, and to press for enactment of legislation he considers necessary for carrying on the New Deal.

Only once did Mr. Roosevelt allude to such critics of his administration as Senator Long, Father Coughlin and Governor Talmadge. He said:

"The overwhelming majority of people in this country know how to sift the wheat from the chaff in what they hear and what they read. They know that the process of the constructive rebuilding of America cannot be done in a day or a year, but that it is being done in spite of a few who seek to confuse them and to profit by their confusion."

These six "fundamental principles," said the President, must guide the work relief program. Projects must be useful, most of the money must go for labor, "a considerable proportion of the costs" must be returned to the treasury, only those projects which can employ persons on relief will be approved, and projects will be approved in a given area in proportion to the unemployed in that area.

Admitting that graft will creep into such vast and speedy spending as his program calls for, the President asked citizens to help him make this "the most efficient and cleanest example of public enterprise the world has ever seen" and thus to give "a smashing answer for those cynical men who say that a democracy cannot be honest and efficient."

LEGISLATION which the President said, in his radio talk, should be enacted by congress immediately included the old age and unemployment insurance bill, the NRA extension bill, the public utility holding company bill, the transportation control bill, and the banking bill.

Here he comes into conflict again with the views of business leaders of the country. The National Association of Manufacturers has just issued its economic analysis of conditions, which says recovery is "within our grasp" and that the nation is closer to breaking the back of the depression than at any time for years, but asks that, in order to stimulate business, the administration and congress temporarily shelve

as "disturbing" such legislation as unemployment insurance, the omnibus banking bill, the utility holding company bill, the 30-hour work week, the Wagner labor disputes bill, the Guffey bituminous coal measure and proposed changes in railroad laws.

Of tied-up capital, the analysis said this:

"Surveys indicate that close to $20,000,000,000 in expenditures, which would give employment to 4,000,000 men for two years, is pent up in the field of factory expansion, renovation and rehabilitation alone."

"The release of this flow of private capital by removing political uncertainties would dwarf the billions appropriated by congress for relief and make unnecessary the expenditure of much of the taxpayers' money."

This document was given out as the members of the United States Chamber of Commerce were gathering in Washington for their twenty-third annual convention, and their speakers endorsed it and attacked much of the proposed legislation mentioned as unwarranted intrusion of the government into business.

Before it adjourned the chamber adopted resolutions condemning abolition of utility holding companies, opposing the banking bill, asking for relaxation and extension of the NRA instead of the administration bill, and postponing "for further study" the question of social security.

Henry I. Harriman, who has been president of the organization for three years, retired from that office in favor of Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y. The new president is a banker and a farmer on a big scale.

SECRETARY ICKES' Department of the Interior has now been elevated to the level of the State, Treasury and Agriculture departments, for congress has granted one of Harold's dearest wishes and given him an undersecretary, whose salary is to be $10,000 a year. This was a senate amendment to the Interior department appropriation bill, and was accepted by the house, 248 to 82, only after considerable pressure had been applied by the administration. Many of the house Democrats have asserted that Mr. Ickes snubbed them, and they would have liked nothing better than to administer a rebuke to him by defeating the amendment, but the party leaders drove them into line.

HOW the New Dealers propose to redistribute wealth by double taxation of large estates is revealed by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau in a letter to Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee. Mr. Morgenthau outlines a plan of imposing inheritance taxes and also retaining the existing estate taxes, asserting this is in line with "our fundamental objectives."

That this would result in the dissolution of large properties, the secretary recognizes, for he says:

"To prevent the necessity of hasty liquidation of large properties in order to pay the tax, it might be provided that inheritance taxes be payable in a convenient number of installments."

The plan as outlined by Mr. Morgenthau is to impose graduated inheritance taxes on estates, with rates following those of the present income tax rates, which approximate 60 per cent on incomes of a million dollars or more. The present estate taxes have a maximum of 60 per cent over ten million dollars.

Thus there would first be a tax of 60 per cent upon the estate or gift, and then another tax of 60 per cent to be paid by those inheriting or receiving it. This would amount to a combined rate of 85 per cent on an estate of one hundred million dollars.

If all this money were handed out to the poorer people, even they Long might be satisfied.

CHAIRMAN JOHN J. McSWAIN of the house military affairs committee sent to the President a letter of apology for disclosure of defense plans outlined in executive sessions of the committee, and assumed full responsibility for "the unfortunate incident."

McSwain was rebuked by letter from the President for the publication in a house document of possible defense plans against Canada and British and French islands in the event of war. Brig. Gen. F. M. Andrews and Charles E. Kilbourne had outlined the program before a secret meeting of the committee.

THIS WAY LIES DISASTER

Excessive Federal restrictions, unregulated competition, the depression, have had their way with America's railroads.

Today the public views the plight of the lines with awakening understanding and broadening concern, and there is growing alarm that close by may be stalking the ominous specter of government ownership.

Disastrous as would be federal usurpation of rail control, might it not be the signal for that final economic calamity—the socialization of all industries?

Under present policies and conditions could government have done better with the railroads than has private management? Could government, in the future, do as well?

Memories of America's War-Era rail management are too fresh, too painful; the strangely similar results of like policies in other countries are too current, too repugnant to blind the thinking to government ownership's deficiencies and undesirabilities.

Simple sanity in transportation policies will solve the railroads' problems; while their seizure will only breach the walls which guard private industrial initiative against all-engulfing socialization.

Michigan's delegation in Congress should so be advised.

ADVERTISEMENT NOTICE TO PUMP CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals, for the furnishing of two deep well turbine pumps, certain appurtenances, and the installation of pumps, appurtenances and wiring and piping, will be received by the Clerk of the Village of Grayling, Michigan, at his office, until 8:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, Monday, May 27, 1935, at which time they will be opened and publicly read, in the Court Chamber, on the second floor of the Crawford County Court House.

Each proposal shall be in a sealed envelope and endorsed: "Proposal for Deep Well Turbines and Appurtenances, Grayling, Michigan." Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for a sum not less than 5% of the amount of the bid, made payable to the Village of Grayling, Michigan. This check is to be forfeited to the Village as liquidated damages in case of failure on the part of the successful bidder to execute the contract and furnish the necessary bonds within the time specified. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned when the contract has been executed.

This project is to be financed with funds made available by the Federal Public Works Administration. No bid will be considered unless accompanied by bidder's Certificate of Compliance, U. S. Government Form P.W.A. 61, Revised March, 1934, to the effect that the bidder is complying with and will continue to comply with each applicable code of fair competition, or in the absence of such code or codes, with the President's Reemployment Agreement. Copies of this certificate will be furnished with proposal forms.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum wage rates prescribed by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works must be paid on this project. The Village reserves the right to waive any informality in any bid, to reject any or all bids, or to accept the lowest responsible bid. Specifications, contract forms and all P.W.A. forms are on file at the office of the Village Clerk. Copies of these forms for bidding may be obtained from him or from Hayden & Kunze, Consulting Engineers, 705 Lawyers

Building, Detroit, Michigan, upon payment of $2.50, no refund. All proposals must be made on the forms furnished by the Village. May 6, 1935.

THE VILLAGE OF GRAYLING, MICHIGAN.
C. G. Clippert, President.
E. L. Sparkes, Clerk.

Bay of Broad Creek About four miles down the Potomac river below Alexandria, Va., on the Maryland shore, is the bay of Broad Creek and the community of Broad Creek, Md. More than 240 years ago an Episcopal church was organized here by the first dwellers. The parish was at first known as Piscataway, afterwards King George's and the Church of St. John's. The first house of worship was of logs and was built in 1694. It was rebuilt with brick in 1722 and enlarged to its present dimensions in 1743.

Giant Bugs Kill Fish Some species of water bugs found in tropical countries are as much as four inches long. These curious creatures inhabit warm, sluggish waters and live on small fish which they kill with their sharp beaks.

Camp News

Camp Higgins

One man received second degree burns in a fire that threatened the camp one night last week when it was without water, the pump being broke. The blaze broke out in the state garage but was soon extinguished with chemicals. William Sullivan, who was hurt, is making a rapid recovery, according to the camp surgeon.

Harold Lassen, local enrollee, received a broken knee cap in an auto accident near camp Friday afternoon during the snow storm. He was taken to Mercy Hospital Grayling, after receiving first aid treatment from Dr. Katzman, and on Saturday was sent to Fort Wayne hospital in the ambulance.

Several men have recently received ratings in this organization. Edward Blanchard and James Davis were named leaders; Harold Andrews, Henry Kasten, Ford Robinson, Adam Panek, Charles Winget, William King and Roman Osie, assistant leaders.

A mimeograph machine was purchased recently for use in publishing the camp paper and duplicating of various office forms which are needed but for the printing of which no funds are available.

Every man in this camp has been urged to write home for Mother's Day, May 12th.

Sheriff Bennett of Grayling and Conservation Officer H. G. Aldrich of Roscommon were speakers at an assembly Tuesday night following the chaplain's services.

Hot and cold water has been piped to the hospital, the work being done by recruits.

A consignment of 92 rookies, 20 of them colored, was received last week from Detroit, which brings the company to near its normal strength.

Francis Cote has been transferred to this organization from Camp Pioneer to serve as district utilities inspector.

A conference of educational advisers in the 4th forestry sub-district is scheduled to meet at this place Friday morning, May 17th.

Camp Au Sable

Lieutenant Allen went fishing on May first. We had been hearing about this excursion for weeks, and we heard a good deal more around six o'clock that morning. At first we thought the whole company was being evacuated, but inspection showed all men and officers present except the above mentioned. About noon he came home howling with success: the trout was at least ten inches long, and the man who ate it said it tasted swell.

From the fisherman's many and various accounts of the conquest we gather that the encounter took place in this wise: After the monster had been hooked, and the reel had come off the pole, and the line was circled several times around the great piscator's neck, and the AuSable was about to drown him in the waders, that the trout became confused and saved the day by leaping into the landing net which was waving about like a flag.

In view of his profound and yearly repeated experience in this deep and difficult art, the Lieutenant is going to write a book on trout fishing. He hasn't got quite as far as the first chapter yet, but we are all eagerly awaiting publication.

Other things have happened in camp this last week, but we have been far too preoccupied with fishing to notice anything else.

Mr. G. K. Nixon has been added to our forestry staff this month. Mr. Babycock is back for a while, and a new man, Mr. Godfrey, both engaged in cultural operations.

Peanuts Are Popular

The history of peanuts in America is an interesting one. Up to the time of the Civil war a few peanut plants were grown in gardens of Virginia and the Carolinas for family use and as curiosities. During the war the soldiers found the nuts to be excellent food, with the result that in the years following the end of hostilities the acreage assigned to them steadily increased. But it was not until the peanut thrasher, the mechanical peanut picker and the sheller were invented that they were grown on a large scale.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Senate Committee Defies President and Richberg on NRA Extension—Roosevelt Lists "Must" Bills and Business Opposes Them.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD,
© Western Newspaper Union.

DISREGARDING the known wishes of President Roosevelt, the finance committee of the senate adopted and reported for passage a simple resolution continuing the national recovery act until April 1, 1936, and at the same time making these provisions:

1. No price fixing shall be permitted or sanctioned in codes, except in those relating to mineral or natural resources which now have price fixing provisions.

2. No trade engaged in intra-state commerce shall be eligible for a code.

3. The President is given specified time in which to review present codes to carry out the conditions laid down in the first two exceptions to the resolution.

Both President Roosevelt and Donald Richberg, head of the NRA, had urged the passage of a new two year NRA bill which would set up a stricter dictatorship over business and industry. The senate finance committee, however, would not consent to this and instead passed the resolution, which was drawn up by Senator Clark of Missouri and approved by Chairman Pat Harrison. Twelve senators first called at the White House and the President seemed willing to accept the continuing resolution until Mr. Richberg came in and protested urgently: whereupon Mr. Roosevelt turned it down. The committee then took the action noted by a vote of 16 to 3, defying both the President and Richberg.

Senator Harrison said he had no doubt the senate would adopt the resolution.

HIGH optimism marked the "fire-side chat" which President Roosevelt delivered over the radio to the people of America, which people, he said, are, as a whole, "feeling a lot better—a lot more cheerful than for many, many years." He asserted we are already on the unmistakable march toward recovery, and told how he means to promote the return to normal conditions with his works relief program. He promised to put to work three and a half million persons now on the relief rolls, and to press for enactment of legislation he considers necessary for carrying on the New Deal.

Only once did Mr. Roosevelt allude to such critics of his administration as Senator Long, Father Coughlin and Governor Talmadge. He said:

"The overwhelming majority of people in this country know how to sift the wheat from the chaff in what they hear and what they read. They know that the process of the constructive rebuilding of America cannot be done in a day or a year, but that it is being done in spite of a few who seek to confuse them and to profit by their confusion."

These six "fundamental principles," said the President, must guide the work relief program: Projects must be useful, most of the money must go for labor, "a considerable proportion of the costs" must be returned to the treasury, only those projects which can employ persons on relief will be approved, and projects will be approved in a given area in proportion to the unemployed in that area.

Admitting that graft will creep into such vast and speedy spending as his program calls for, the President asked citizens to help him make this "the most efficient and cleanest example of public enterprise the world has ever seen" and thus to give "a smashing answer for those cynical men who say that a democracy cannot be honest and efficient."

LEGISLATION which the President said, in his radio talk, should be enacted by congress immediately included the old age and unemployment insurance bill, the NRA extension bill, the public utility holding company bill, the transportation control bill, and the banking bill.

Here he comes into conflict again with the views of business leaders of the country. The National Association of Manufacturers has just issued its economic analysis of conditions, which says recovery is "within our grasp" and that the nation is closer to breaking the back of the depression than at any time for years, but asks that, in order to stimulate business, the administration and congress temporarily shelve

as "disturbing" such legislation as unemployment insurance, the omnibus banking bill, the utility holding company bill, the 30-hour work week, the Wagner labor disputes bill, the Guffey bituminous coal measure and proposed changes in railroad laws.

Of tied-up capital, the analysis said this:

"Surveys indicate that close to $20,000,000,000 in expenditures, which would give employment to 4,000,000 men for two years, is pent up in the field of factory expansion, renovation and rehabilitation alone.

"The release of this flow of private capital by removing political uncertainties would dwarf the billions appropriated by congress for relief and make unnecessary the expenditure of much of the taxpayers' money."

This document was given out as the members of the United States Chamber of Commerce were gathering in Washington for their twenty-third annual convention, and their speakers endorsed it and attacked much of the proposed legislation mentioned as unwarranted intrusion of the government into business.

Before it adjourned the chamber adopted resolutions condemning abolition of utility holding companies, opposing the banking bill, asking for relaxation and extension of the NRA instead of the administration bill, and postponing "for further study" the question of social security.

Henry I. Harriman, who has been president of the organization for three years, retired from that office in favor of Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y. The new president is a banker and a farmer on a big scale.

SECRETARY ICKES' Department of the Interior has now been elevated to the level of the State, Treasury and Agriculture departments, for congress has granted one of Harold's dearest wishes and given him an undersecretary, whose salary is to be $10,000 a year. This was a separate amendment to the Interior department appropriation bill, and was accepted by the house, 243 to 92, only after considerable pressure had been applied by the administration. Many of the house Democrats have asserted that Mr. Ickes snubbed them, and they would have liked nothing better than to administer a rebuke to him by defeating the amendment, but the party leaders drove them into line.

HOW the New Dealers propose to redistribute wealth by double taxation of large estates is revealed by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau in a letter to Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee. Mr. Morgenthau outlines a plan of imposing inheritance taxes and also retaining the existing estate taxes, asserting this is in line with "our fundamental objectives." That this would result in the dissolution of large properties, the secretary recognizes, for he says:

"To prevent the necessity of hasty liquidation of large properties in order to pay the tax, it might be provided that inheritance taxes be payable in a convenient number of installments."

The plan as outlined by Mr. Morgenthau is to impose graduated inheritance taxes on estates, with rates following those of the present income tax rates, which approximate 60 per cent on incomes of a million dollars or more. The present estate taxes have a maximum of 60 per cent over ten million dollars.

Thus there would first be a tax of 60 per cent upon the estate or gift, and then another tax of 60 per cent to be paid by those inheriting or receiving it. This would amount to a combined rate of 85 per cent on an estate of one hundred million dollars.

If all this money were handed out to the poorer people, even Huey Long might be satisfied.

CHAIRMAN JOHN J. McSWAIN of the house military affairs committee sent to the President a letter of apology for disclosure of defense plans outlined in executive sessions of the committee, and assumed full responsibility for "the unfortunate incident."

McSwain was rebuked by letter from the President for the publication in a house document of possible defense plans against Canada and British and French islands in the Atlantic and the Caribbean in the event of war. Replying, F. M. Andrews and Charles E. Kibbourn had outlined the program before a secret meeting of the committee.

THIS WAY LIES DISASTER . . .

Excessive Federal restrictions, unregulated competition, the depression, have had their way with America's railroads.

Today the public views the plight of the lines with awakening understanding and broadening concern, and there is growing alarm that close by may be stalking the ominous specter of government ownership.

Disastrous as would be federal usurpation of rail control, might it not be the signal for that final economic calamity—the socialization of all industries?

Under present policies and conditions could government have done better with the railroads than has private management? Could government, in the future, do as well?

Memories of America's War-Era rail management are too fresh, too painful; the strangely similar results of like policies in other countries are too current, too repugnant to blind the thinking to government ownership's deficiencies and undesirabilities.

Simple sanity in transportation policies will solve the railroads' problems, while their seizure will only breach the walls which guard private industrial initiative against all-engulfing socialization.

Michigan's delegation in Congress should so be advised.

ADVERTISEMENT NOTICE TO PUMP CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals, for the furnishing of two deep well turbine pumps, certain appurtenances, and the installation of pumps, appurtenances and wiring and piping, will be received by the Clerk of the Village of Grayling, Michigan, at his office, until 8:00 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, Monday, May 27, 1935, at which time they will be opened and publicly read, in the Court Chamber, on the second floor of the Crawford County Court House.

Each proposal shall be in a sealed envelope and endorsed: "Proposal for Deep Well Turbines and Appurtenances, Grayling, Michigan."

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for a sum not less than 5% of the amount of the bid, made payable to the Village of Grayling, Michigan. This check is to be forfeited to the Village as liquidated damages in case of failure on the part of the successful bidder to execute the contract and furnish the necessary bonds within the time specified. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned when the contract has been executed.

This project is to be financed with funds made available by the Federal Public Works Administration. No bid will be considered unless accompanied by bidder's Certificate of Compliance, U. S. Government Form P.W.A. 61, Revised March, 1934, to the effect that the bidder is complying with and will continue to comply with each applicable code of fair competition, or in the absence of such code or codes, with the President's Reemployment Agreement. Copies of this certificate will be furnished with proposal forms.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum wage rates prescribed by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works must be paid on this project.

The Village reserves the right to waive any informality in any bid, to reject any or all bids, or to accept the lowest responsible bid.

Specifications, contract forms and all P.W.A. forms are on file at the office of the Village Clerk. Copies of these forms for bidding may be obtained from him or from Hayden & Kunze, Consulting Engineers, 705 Lawyers

Building, Detroit, Michigan, upon payment of $2.50, no refund. All proposals must be made on the forms furnished by the Village.

5-9-2 E. L. Sparkes, Clerk.

Bay of Broad Creek
About four miles down the Potomac river below Alexandria, Va., on the Maryland shore, is the bay of Broad Creek and the community of Broad Creek, Md. More than 240 years ago an Episcopal church was organized here by the first dwellers. The parish was at first known as Piscataway, afterwards King George's and the Church of St. John's. The first house of worship was of logs and was built in 1694. It was rebuilt with brick in 1722 and enlarged to its present dimensions in 1763.

Giant Bugs Kill Fish
Some species of water bugs found in tropical countries are as much as four inches long. These curious creatures inhabit warm, sluggish waters and live on small fish which they kill with their sharp beaks.

Registration Notice

To the Qualified Electors of the Village of Grayling, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Village Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Village not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the second Saturday before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is further given that I will be at my office on Saturday, May 18, 1935, from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors as may properly apply therefor. May 18th is the last day of registering by personal application.

PRIZES to be

In a Six-and-a-Half Weeks' Su

25,000 extra credits for every five years in subscriptions you turn in during your first week in this subscription campaign.

DOUBLE CREDITS ON OUT OF TOWN SUBSCRIPTIONS

To make it possible for out of town participants to compete on an equal basis with those living right in Grayling, double credits will be given on subscriptions paid in person outside the city limits of Grayling. These double credits may be obtained by anyone in the campaign, regardless of where he lives. It is where the subscriber lives that counts.

PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of this big "Weekly Payroll" Drive is two-fold. Primarily, to increase the already large subscription of this newspaper, to collect arrears and advance subscription payments from present or old subscribers, and at the same time to afford the live-wire, energetic men and women, boys and girls of this territory an opportunity to profit in a BIG way through their spare time during the next few weeks. So it is a plan that works both ways, and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to gain this end quickly and advantageously, the most attractive awards ever offered by any newspaper in this section have been made ready for distribution among those who participate most actively. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success.

Let it be understood at the very outset that this is not a "beauty" nor "popularity" contest, but a strictly legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and one into which no element of chance enters. Each active participant will receive a pay check every Saturday night. One feature of this drive is the fact that "Everybody Wins." There will be no losers.

HOW TO ENTER—WHAT TO DO

The first thing to do is to clip the Entry Coupon appearing below, fill in your name and address and mail or deliver to this newspaper at once. This coupon entitles you, or the person whom you might wish to enter, to 5000 free credits. These credits are given as a starter to speed you on your way to win. Only one Entry Coupon will be accepted for each participant.

The next step is to call or write the "Weekly Payroll" Department for a free working outfit. Thus equipped you are not to see your friends and acquaintances who have not subscribed to this newspaper through you. There's all there is to it. However, you will never get anywhere unless you make the start—the earlier the better. Once started, let no one discourage you. Aiming high, saving a word, striving for six and a half short weeks and you may be riding in your own $500 automobile or otherwise several hundred dollars richer in purse.

HOW CREDITS ARE SECURED

It takes credits to win, and they are secured in the following ways: First by clipping the Free Credit Coupons appearing in each issue of this newspaper. There is no limit to the number of these coupons you may secure. Get your friends to save them for you. They all count. Begin gathering them NOW while they are good for 100 credits each. After next week these coupons will be reduced to 50 credits each. The following week to 25 credits, and after that they will be discarded entirely. The only restriction placed on these coupons is that they must be cut before the expiration date.

The other, and much faster way to accumulate credits in this "Weekly Payroll" Drive is by securing new and renewal subscriptions to this newspaper. On each order secured credits are issued, the number varying according to the amount paid and during which "payroll" same are received at the "Weekly Payroll" Department of this newspaper. (See schedule of credits below.)

EARLY START MEANS EASY FINISH

The advantages of an early start are manifest. This "Weekly Payroll" drive is of such short duration that immediate action is necessary for success. Orders taken during the early part of the campaign carry the MAXIMUM number of credits. Then, too, the first to be paid will undoubtedly get the "cream" of credits and subscriptions, while those who put off entering until a later date will have to take what is left.

Don't lose valuable time "waiting to see what the other fellow is going to do," but pitch right in and show the "other fellow" how to do it.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. No salaried employee of this newspaper is eligible to enter this competition.
2. Any reputable man or woman residing in this city or surrounding territory is eligible to enter this drive and compete for awards and weekly pay checks.
3. The winners of the awards will be decided by their earned credits, said credits being represented by ballots issued on cash collections and coupons clipped from this newspaper.
4. Participants in this drive are not confined to their own town or community in which to secure subscriptions, but may take orders anywhere in this section; or, for that matter, anywhere else.
5. Credits are free. It costs the subscriber nothing extra to cast credits for a favorite participant. Credits must be asked for at the time of paying subscriptions, otherwise subscribers waive this privilege.
6. Credits are not transferable. Participants cannot withdraw in favor of another participant. Should a participant withdraw from the race, his or her credits will be cancelled. Neither will it be permissible for participants to give or transfer subscriptions to another participant. Credits on such transferred subscriptions will be subject to disqualification at the discretion of the management.
7. Any collusion on the part of participants to nullify competition, or any other combination formed to the detriment of "Weekly Payroll" participants or this newspaper will not be tolerated. Any participant taking part in such combination stands liable to forfeit all right to a prize or commission.
8. All credits issued on ballots may be held in reserve and cast at the discretion of participants or this newspaper. The free credit coupons appearing from time to time in the paper must be cast before the expiration date.
9. In event of a tie for any one of the awards, a prize identical in value will be given each tying participant.
10. Participants in this drive are authorized agents of this newspaper, but it is understood and agreed that they will be responsible for all money collected and will remit such amounts in full on regular report days to the "Weekly Payroll" Department.
11. No statement or promise made by any representative or participant varying from the rules and statement appearing in the columns of this newspaper will be recognized by the publisher.

12. In case of typographical or other errors it is understood that neither the publisher nor "Weekly Payroll" manager shall be held responsible except to make the necessary correction upon discovery of same.

13. ACTIVE participants will be paid a twenty-per cent cash commission ($1.00 out of every $5.00 collected) on all subscription money turned in to their account each week. It is distinctly understood, however, that in the event any participant becomes INACTIVE, failing to make a regular cash report, he or she will, at the discretion of the management, become disqualified and thereby forfeit all right to an award or an extra commission.

14. It is understood and agreed that the winners of major awards will consider their weekly pay checks in the light of an "advance" which is refundable upon presentation of prize.

15. To insure absolute fairness in the awarding of prizes, the race will be brought to a close with a sealed ballot box. During the entire last "period" of the drive a ballot box—locked and sealed—will repose in the vaults of a local bank, where participants and their friends may deposit their final collections and reserve credits. In this way, no one—not even the Campaign Manager—can possibly know the actual strength of the various participants, which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.

16. Twenty-five thousand credits will be given each worker for every 5-year subscription or its equivalent turned in during their first week of the campaign, and during the third week of the drive, half as many extra credits will be given on same basis.

17. To each "Weekly Payroll" participant who earns as much as $50.00 during their first week of the campaign, this newspaper will give an extra bonus of $25 cash.

18. Five thousand extra credits will be given to each participant who makes a cash report each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights.

19. This newspaper guarantees fair and impartial treatment to all participants, but should any question arise, the decision of the management will be absolute and final.

20. In becoming a member of this "Weekly Payroll" Campaign participants agree to abide by the above conditions.

Y PAYROLL" WORKERS

ADVISORY BOARD

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct this campaign from start to finish in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. For this reason, a board of judges, selected from among well-known and respected citizens of the community, will be chosen to select the final winners. The personnel of this board will be announced later.

PROPOSED CHARTER OF THE CITY OF GRAYLING

of hearing or investigating charges against any officer, or making any other investigation of any character, to require the mayor or any justice of the peace to issue subpoenas or process by warrant to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers or any records before the council or any committee thereof. In case charges are made against any officer, he shall be entitled to have subpoenas issued in his behalf, to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and records.

Section 37. Whenever the council, or any committee of the members thereof, is authorized to compel the attendance of witnesses for a hearing or investigation, the presiding officer of the council or the chairman of the committee for the time being, shall have power to administer the necessary oaths; and the council or the committee shall have the same power to compel the witnesses to testify as is conferred on justices of the peace.

Finance.

Section 38. The fiscal year of the city shall begin with the first day of July.

Section 39. On or before the first Monday in April of each year the assessor shall make and complete, an assessment roll of taxable property in the city, and shall submit the roll, over his certificate, to the council. The subjects of taxation for municipal purposes shall be the same as for state, county and school purposes under state law. The assessor may begin making the assessment roll as early as he may deem necessary to conveniently complete it before the first Monday in April, but no valuations shall be finally established before February 1 of any year, and personal property valuations shall be determined as of any specific date or period the assessor may designate in the last thirty days before the first Monday in April. The assessment roll shall be open to public inspection during the week of the second Monday in April, and notice to that effect shall be published by the clerk at least four days prior to the second Monday in April. Within the inspection period any person may file in writing with the clerk a complaint of any assessment, stating specifically the grounds of the complaint.

Section 40. The board of review shall meet on the third Monday in April to review the roll and to consider any complaints which may have been filed with the clerk and to hear any complaints which property owners may make in person, or by authorized agent; the board may continue its meeting on such successive days as may be necessary to hear all complaints. Notice of the meeting of the board of review shall be published by the clerk at least four days prior to the third Monday in April. Before the first Monday in May the board shall complete its review of the roll, which shall, during the next fiscal year, be the basis for the levy and collection of taxes.

Section 41. Before the third Monday in April, each city officer shall submit to the city manager an itemized estimate of the expenditures for the next fiscal year, of the department or departments under his control. The manager shall prepare a complete itemized budget for the next fiscal year, and shall submit it to the council on or before the first Monday in May.

Section 42. The budget shall include the following information:

- (1) Detailed estimates of the expense of conducting each department and office of the city for the ensuing fiscal year;
- (2) Expenditures for corresponding items for the current year and last preceding fiscal year, with reasons for increases and decreases recommended as compared with appropriations for the current year;
- (3) An inventory of supplies and materials on hand at the date of the preparation of the estimates, with the value thereof, except office supplies and other minor items;
- (4) The amount of the total and net debt of the city, together with a schedule of maturities of bond issues;
- (5) A statement of the amounts to be appropriated: For interest on the city debt For paying off any bonds maturing during the year;
- (6) An itemization of all anticipated income of the city from sources other than taxes and bond issues, with a comparative statement of the amounts received by the city from each of the same or similar sources for the last preceding and current fiscal years;
- (7) An estimate of the amount of money to be raised from taxes and the amount to be raised from bond issues which, with income from other sources, will be necessary to meet the proposed expenditures.

Section 43. A public hearing on the budget shall be held at least one week before its final adoption, at such time and place as the council shall direct, and notice of such public hearing shall be published at least one week in advance by the clerk.

Section 44. After the budget has been adopted, no appropriation shall be overdrawn, and no appropriation shall be increased except by a four-fifths vote of the council. The balance in any appropriation which has not been expended or transferred at the end of the fiscal year shall revert to the general fund and be re-appropriated during the next fiscal year. At the beginning of each quarterly period during the fiscal year and more often if required by the council, the manager shall submit to the council data showing the relation between the estimated and actual income and expenditures to date; and if it shall appear that the income is less than originally estimated, the council shall reduce appropriations, except amounts required for debt and interest charges, to such a degree as may be necessary to keep expenditures within the cash income, without considering the possibility of receiving any revenue from current loans. It is the intent of this section to keep the expenditures of the city within its cash income, and that the authority to borrow on current loans shall only be used for unusual and unforeseen needs of an emergency nature.

Section 45. Not later than the first Monday in June, the council shall, by resolution, adopt the budget for all municipal expenditures for the next fiscal year and such resolution shall provide for a levy of the amount necessary to be raised by taxation, which shall not exceed two per cent of all real and personal property subject to taxation in the city. Upon adoption of the annual tax levy, a tax roll shall be prepared before the twentieth day of June. The taxes thus assessed shall become due at once a debt to the city from the persons to whom they are assessed, and the amount assessed, together with all charges thereon, shall on the first day of July become a lien on the property assessed, of the same character and effect as the lien created by general law for state and county taxes, until paid.

Section 46. Taxes levied by the city shall be due and payable on the first day of July. The treasurer shall give notice by publication of the collection of taxes before that date. After the first day of August, a penalty of three per cent shall be charged on all city taxes remaining unpaid, and in addition, from and after September 1, interest at the rate of three-fourths of one per cent per month shall be collected on all unpaid city taxes until paid or returned to the county treasurer. The city treasurer may receive payments of city taxes prior to the due dates, or he may receive partial payments at any time, for which he shall issue temporary or partial payment receipts. In returning unpaid city taxes to the county treasurer, as required by state law, the city treasurer shall add all penalties and interest due on said taxes to date; and from and after the date of the return, interest at the rate prescribed by state law to be paid on delinquent state and county taxes shall be collected by the county treasurer on the whole amount returned against any description of property. Except as otherwise provided by this charter, city taxes shall be levied, collected and returned as provided by state law.

Section 47. Whenever the council shall determine that the whole or any part of the expense of any public improvement shall be defrayed by an assessment on the owners of land to be benefited thereby, it shall cause the expense of such improvement to be estimated and shall declare by an entry on its journal whether the whole or what portion thereof shall be assessed to such owners and occupants, specifying the sum to be assessed, the number of installments in which it may be paid, and the portion of the city which it deems to be benefited. The council shall cause an assessment of the sum to be assessed to be made upon all lands within the designated portion of the city according to benefit. The assessment roll shall be open to public inspection for a period of seven days before the council shall meet to review the roll and hear complaints. The clerk shall give notice in advance by publication of the opening of the roll to public inspection and of the meeting of the council to hear complaints. If at or prior to the hearing, the owners of more than one-half of the property to be assessed shall object in writing to the improvement, the assessment shall not be made unless by at least a four-fifths vote of the council. Every special assessment ratified and confirmed by the council after such hearing shall be final and conclusive. Should any special assessment prove insufficient to pay for the improvement and related costs of the project for which it was levied, the council may make an additional pro rata assessment. Should the assessment prove larger than necessary by less than five per cent, the council may place the excess in the city treasury; if more than five per cent, the excess shall be refunded pro rata to assessments. Special assessments and all interest and charges thereon shall from the date of confirmation of the roll be and remain a lien upon the property assessed, of the same character and effect as the lien created by general law for state and county taxes, until paid. Interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum shall be collected on deferred installments; and the same penalty and interest shall be paid on delinquent installments of such assessments, from such date after confirmation as shall be fixed by the council, as are provided by this charter to be paid on delinquent general city taxes, and such delinquent special assessments returned to the county treasurer for collection, shall be handled in the same manner as are delinquent general city taxes.

Section 48. In case any person shall neglect or refuse to pay taxes imposed upon any real or personal property belonging to him, the city treasurer may enforce the collection thereof by distress and sale or by suit in the name of the city, in the same manner and to the same extent as township treasurers may enforce the payment of state and county taxes.

Section 49. The council may provide by ordinance or resolution that the clerk shall bid in for the city any lot of land or premises at any sale for taxes or assessments levied or assessed by the city. Under such limitations as are provided by state law, the council may sell or lease in such manner and under such conditions as it may by resolution provide, any property of the city, whether acquired by purchase at tax sales or otherwise, that is not devoted to public use.

Section 50. The levy, collection and return of state, county and school taxes shall be in conformity with the general laws of the state, except that the council may provide by ordinance for the collection of school taxes at a different time, upon agreement with the school board.

Section 51. The city council may borrow money on the credit of the city for any purpose within the scope of its powers, and may issue the city's bonds or other evidences of indebtedness hereunder; provided, that the authority herein granted shall be subject to all limitations, conditions, restrictions and requirements now or hereafter provided by this charter and the constitution and laws of this state. Bonds which may be issued shall include general obligation bonds; mortgage bonds and revenue bonds for the purpose of acquiring or constructing public utilities, which bonds may be issued beyond the general limitation of bonded indebtedness prescribed by state law when they do not impinge upon the city's credit upon the property and revenues of such public utility; special assessment bonds; bonds for the city's portion of local improvements; bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes actually levied and uncollected; refunding bonds; and emergency bonds. All other types of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness now or hereafter specifically authorized or permitted by state law may be issued as therein provided. Bonds and other evidences of indebtedness of the city shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the clerk under the seal of the city. The coupons evidencing the interest upon the bonds of the city may be executed with the facsimile signatures of the mayor and the clerk.

Section 52. The council shall provide by ordinance for the collection of all public utility charges made by the city. Such ordinance may provide that any sums due the city on utility bills not covered by deposits and remaining unpaid shall be charged against the real property on which the service was rendered, and shall be spread on the next regular city tax roll after the date on which such charge shall become due and payable, and shall become a lien of the same character and effect as the lien created by state and county taxes, until paid.

Section 53. The council may borrow in any one year for current purposes such amount as may be permitted by state law. Such money may be borrowed from any city fund which will not be in need of the money previous to its repayment, or on tax anticipation notes as provided by state law. The budget for the next succeeding fiscal year shall include a sum sufficient to pay all such loans and interest and they shall be paid on or before September 1 of such succeeding fiscal year. Any city officer failing to perform any duty of his office in conformity with this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 54. The accounting system of the city shall conform with any uniform system of accounting that may be provided by state law, and the council shall make provision for any such accounting system when required.

Section 55. The city manager shall audit all claims and accounts against the city, or may delegate that function or any part of it to some other officer; after such claims and accounts are approved by the city manager, the city treasurer shall then pay the voucher by check, draft, order or warrant, which shall be signed by the manager and countersigned by the mayor, and shall specify the account from which payment is to be made. The council shall designate the depository or depositories for city funds, and shall provide by ordinance for the prompt and regular deposit of all city moneys.

Section 56. The council may require such financial and general reports from all city officials as it may direct, and shall order an audit of the accounts of the city at least annually and more frequently if deemed necessary, which shall be made by auditors or accountants experienced in municipal accounting. An annual financial report of the city's business shall be published in sufficient detail to disclose the expenditures for the year in various departments and by the whole city, and in such manner that citizens may readily determine the relation of the city's expenditures to its actual income.

Schedule.

Section 57. For the purposes of adopting this charter and electing the first officers under it, this charter shall take effect on Friday, May 3, 1935, and a special election for such purposes shall be held on Monday, May 27, 1935. Such election shall be conducted as provided by this charter for regular city elections, with such modifications as may be provided by resolution of the charter commission.

Section 58. The council first elected under this charter shall assemble in the city hall at 8 o'clock p.m., eastern standard time, Monday, June 3, 1935; and when it shall have been called to order by the village president, and shall have elected a temporary chairman, the council of the Village of Grayling, previously existing, shall cease to be and the office of each member thereof shall terminate.

Section 59. All elective officers of the Village of Grayling except the council and all appointive officers in office at the time of the adoption of this charter shall continue in office until their successors are appointed and qualified, or until the office is abolished as provided by this charter.

Section 60. All officers first elected under this charter shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified at the regular city election in 1937, except the justice of the peace who shall hold office until his successor, elected at the regular city election in 1937, shall be qualified and succeed to the office as provided by state law.

Section 61. For all purposes not otherwise provided for, this charter shall take effect Monday, June 3, 1935.

Section 62. The first reports for all offices which shall be made under this charter shall cover the period from the last annual reports under the village government to July 1, 1936.

Section 63. All by-laws, ordinances, resolutions, rules and regulations of the Village of Grayling, of the council and of all the officers and offices, not inconsistent with the provisions of this charter, shall continue in full force and effect until repealed or amended by action of the constituted authority.

Section 64. The sections of this charter and the parts thereof are severable, and in the event of any provision being declared unconstitutional or contrary to state law, it is hereby declared the intent of the charter commission that such unconstitutional or illegal provision shall not affect the validity of the other provisions of this charter.

M. E. A. STATE MEETINGS

HOSPITAL NOTES

Those who are patients at the present time are: Brooks Epley, Grayling; Mrs. Mattie Kile, Beaver Creek; James Raymer, Houghton Heights; Mrs. Edward Gierke, Grayling. Those released this week were: Monignor Pongonis, Gaylord; Vern Lawson, 672; Alfred De-Frain, Grayling; Floyd Dixon, Grayling.

Office Supply Group Formed

ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED TO SERVE BUSINESSMEN IN NORTHERN AREA

Organization of the Northern Office Supply Association with 12 authorized dealers throughout Northern Michigan was announced recently by C. E. Garvin, general manager.

Central offices of the new organization will be located with the Petoskey News Printing Company at 311 East Mitchell street, Petoskey.

Through the Northern Office Supply Association, business houses in the upper third of the lower peninsula will be able to purchase directly all items in the office supply field.

"For a long time we have felt the need of adequate office supply service throughout Northern Michigan whereby users may obtain prompt deliveries and expert advice through dealers in their respective cities, without relying on concerns located at distant points," Mr. Garvin declared. "Last fall operations were started under the direction of Mr. Fred M. Shotwell, of Petoskey."

"During the last six months Mr. Shotwell has perfected the organization now known as the Northern Office Supply Association as the best means of supplying business men in this territory with supplies for their offices."

Members of the association are: Gaylord Printing Company, of Gaylord; Sangster and Riggs, of Cheboygan; Cadillac Paper Products, of Cadillac; Central Drug Company, of Charlevoix; Herrick Brothers, of Boyne City; Doolley Book Shop, of Traverse City; Crawford County Avalanche, of Grayling; DeWaele Drug Company, of Rosebloom; Burt Parliament, of West Branch; Mancelona Herald, of Mancelona; E. A. Remington, of Alpena; and Petoskey News Printing Company, of Petoskey.

Mr. Garvin also announced the engagement of E. A. Remington as service man for the association. An expert typewriter and adding machine mechanic, Mr. Remington will devote his entire time to repair work for the associated dealers of the Northern Office Supply Association.

Mr. Shotwell will continue as field representative for the association, making regular visits to each associated dealer and aiding in sales promotion.

The Association will engage in extensive promotion work in behalf of its 11 dealers. Newspaper advertising, direct mail contacts and personal visits by Mr. Shotwell and Mr. Remington will comprise some of the activities of the Association.

Exclusive lines to be offered through the associated dealers of the Association include: L. C. Smith Type Bar ribbons and carbons; Fibroint Stencils for duplicating machines; Stencilpress duplicator; DuWaco duplicating ink; and Vivid duplicators.

Dealers in Emmet, Charlevoix, Montmorency and Antrim counties will have exclusive agency for L. C. Smith typewriters. All dealers will handle Corona portable typewriters and adding machines.

In addition to the exclusive lines, the dealers will offer: De-Luxe and IP loose leaf binders and forms; files and filing supplies; office furniture; and general office supplies.

FORMER RESIDENT BROTH HERE FOR INTERMENT

Elrey Waite, a former well known resident of Grayling passed away at his home in Mason Monday morning after a lingering illness with heart trouble. The family were former residents of Grayling for several years when Mr. Waite was employed as section foreman on the railroad here. They moved to Mason a couple of years ago, but have been frequent callers since.

The remains were brought here for burial Tuesday and taken to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Oscar Horning, and services will be held at the Michelson Memorial church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Mr. F. J. Mills officiating.

Mr. Waite was 56 years old and besides his widow is survived by three sons and three daughters, Ray, Walter, Arthur, Eva, Ethel and Bertha. Also three sisters Mrs. Frank Cochran and Mrs. Ethel Griffith, Grayling and Mrs. Alice Sullivan, Rose City.

Mrs. George Struble and Mrs. Sarah Miller of Saginaw are among those from out of town here for the funeral, besides the children and their families.

FREDERIC TO HAVE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

Last Monday night, May 6, Frederic's school board, while in session, was presented with a petition signed by 94 legal school voters, or about 98% of the legal voters in the township asking that the board take steps to make Frederic school an agricultural school.

A resolution was offered to carry out the wishes of the petitioners, all members of the board voting yea. So Frederic will be an agricultural school just as soon as the required number of teachers are engaged and other requirements complied with.

HAVING LISTENED TO SENATOR

Long of Louisiana and other orators who do not like the administration and its New Deal and also have little love for the G. O. P., the National Farmers' Holiday association, in session at Des Moines, Iowa, decided that a third national political party should be formed.

Milo Reno, national president of the association, had a lively encounter with a group of alleged Communists during a business session. They sought adoption of a resolution calling for legislation for "relief without debts," production credit without strings, and immediate repeal of the AAA.

"You can't talk. You can't argue. Don't try to get the door, I'm running this meeting," Reno said. "Sit down and shut up. Get out before we get really mad."

REPUBLICANS of nine midwestern states who met at Excelsior Springs, Mo., decided that the "grass roots" conference of leaders of the party should be held in Springfield, Ill., the date to be fixed later, though it probably will be early in June. The purpose of this gathering will be the rejuvenation of the party and the launching of a campaign to restore popular government. The nine states participating, which will name delegates, are Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Wisconsin and Oklahoma.

as the most successful plan for administering affairs in other fields of human activity. The city manager, under this plan, for instance, is comparable to the superintendent of schools, or the general manager of a private corporation. The superintendent of schools is appointed by the board of education and is expected to get results out of the educational system; he has complete authority, but he is also held completely responsible. The relationship of a general manager and the board of directors of a private corporation is exactly the same.

One other provision relating to the manager introduces a new feature in Grayling's municipal government. High standards of education and experience are required of the manager. For years we have been demanding in our school system people of training, and even the poorest of teachers must have at least one year of special education beyond high school and then can only teach for a few years before securing additional professional education. Yet in a community like Grayling the municipality spends almost as much money as the school district without demanding a single trained person to do it. We would not think of running our private businesses without experienced help; we don't make bank cashiers out of brick masons, nor newspaper editors out of farmers. One of the costly fallacies of American government is the belief that anyone regardless of training or experience could handle its functions. This fallacy has become more and more evident until it is now becoming generally recognized that we need trained and experienced persons to run our governments as well as the other types of businesses encountered in our daily lives.

Harbor Springs was the first small Michigan city to adopt the council-manager charter proposed for Grayling. It has now had almost three years experience under that charter and it has been extraordinarily successful since the beginning. January 5, 1933, about three months after the new system was in operation, The Emmet County Graphic carried an article stating that a sewer construction job had been completed at a saving of $1,500, permitting a special assessment refund of more than 25 per cent to property owners—the first in the history of the municipality. The report in The Graphic showed that every item of cost, including charges for city equipment, the manager's services in running the job, etc., were made, and in an editorial in a later issue, The Graphic said: "When we stop to consider that the council was doubtful if construction costs could be kept within the engineer's estimate we know efficient methods must have been used on the job. This newspaper is of the opinion that the efficiency and economy demonstrated on the sewer project can be taken as an indication of what we may expect in all governmental activities under the new form of government."

Within the first year Harbor Springs was able to cut its municipal taxes from $18,300 to $12,000, and the cost of operating municipal utilities was kept within funds raised from rates averaging more than 20 per cent under those in force the previous year. Harbor Springs' progress in more efficient government since that first year has been continuous and Grayling can reasonably expect to secure equally good results under the council-manager plan of government.

In addition to the benefits of trained management of the city which the new charter will bring, the provision for combining all the offices in any manner that will be to the best advantage of the city will result in economies of operation and conveniences which both citizens and officials will appreciate. One individual will always be available at the city office to take care of all the needs of citizens, and to supply council members with complete information about any phase of the government. This advantage will be particularly noticeable in Grayling, as against dealing with a village clerk, township clerk, village treasurer, township treasurer, etc., all in the operation of local government in the community.

The position of manager is so set up as to provide for greater continuity in office. No term of office is specified; the manager remains in office as long as he does his work satisfactorily; yet he can be removed at any time by three or more members of the council, except that any manager who has worked for the city for a year or more prior to any election can only be removed by the four or more votes during the six months following the city election. This provision is designed to keep new councilmen from removing the manager until they become acquainted with their work, since it has frequently been observed that candidates for positions on the council have sought the removal of efficient city employees before they knew of their value.

The provision for centralized purchasing also differs from the average village government. The experience of many municipalities testifies to the decided advantage of having a single person do all the purchasing. He becomes familiar with where and how to secure the best prices and he does not buy unnecessary items or excessive items as is the case when different officials, each purchase for his own department. Just to illustrate, in one village I discovered that the clerk, treasurer and assessor had each purchased pint bottles of ink, although the entire village government would not use a bottle of ink in at least three years. In the same village many of the tools in the water commissioner's shop were duplicated in the street commissioner's garage, with neither set being used very much. These may seem like minor items, but taken together over a period of time they mean a considerable expenditure of municipal funds. Centralized purchasing eliminates such costly nonsense.

WHY MACHINE FOR DIGGING WATERWORKS?

The use of a mechanical digger for excavating trenches for the waterworks system wasn't quite in accord with the wishes of the local administration and Mayor Clippert asked the engineering firm of Hayden & Kunze, the engineers, why the work was not done by hand labor. Following is the reply received:

May 7, 1935
Dr. C. G. Clippert, President,
Grayling, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

We have received your inquiry regarding the use of hand labor and machinery in the construction of your waterworks system.

Following is a quotation from paragraph 4 of the construction regulations of the Federal Public Works Administration:

"Human Labor.—The maximum of human labor shall be used in lieu of machinery wherever practicable and consistent with sound economic and public advantage; and to the extent that the work may be accomplished at no greater expense by human labor than by the use of machinery."

It must be remembered that the PWA is an organization set up to make loans and grants to municipalities to construct public projects which are economically sound. Before a project is considered economically sound by the Federal Government, the cost of construction must be such that the revenues to be derived therefrom are sufficient to retire the loan and also carry the operating cost of the project.

Any project which is constructed under the PWA is not considered as a strictly relief project. Relief projects are classified as FERA projects and are handled in an entirely different manner.

If hand labor had been specified in the contract for the construction of your waterworks, the cost of installing the water mains would have been increased by approximately 20%. The additional cost of the project thereby would, no doubt, have precluded the possibility of securing a loan and grant from the PWA; or if a loan and grant were allowed by the PWA the increased cost would have accrued to water users in the form of higher rates.

Respectfully yours,
Hayden & Kunze,
By A. T. Kunze.

Self First
"We all say we are working for the benefit of humanity," said Ed Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "but we always remember ourselves as the part of humanity whose needs we immediately understand."

Junior Play Was Much Enjoyed

Several members of the Junior class showed a bit of clever acting last Friday night in their play "Girl Shy," presented at the school auditorium. Each member of the cast was chosen to perfection and they showed their ability as performers, satisfying a good size audience.

The play was a college comedy and the story ran thusly: Tom Arsdale (Leo Lovely) is a girly shy Senior but his room-mate Oke Stimson (David Ward) isn't. Oke's latest weakness is Peaches Carter (Yvonne Kraus), but Tom becomes temporarily engaged to whom he thinks to be the maid, but who is really Barbara Sanford (Loretta Sorenson) who has tried to meet him, to avoid marrying the choice of his father. When Mr. Arsdale (Ransom Murphy) accompanied by Aunt Caroline (Helen May) and Sylvia Webster (Evelyn Sorenson) come down for the graduation exercises there is an uproar. The aunt has a hard time getting service out of Asma (Zonella Wells) who says that she is a "wash lady" not a maid. The maid, Birdie LaVerne (Blanche Wheeler) is taking a screen test made possible for her thru Barbara.

That night at the masquerade ball Aunt Caroline goes with Dean Marlow (William Entsminger). Sylvia having exchanged costumes with Birdie is kidnapped by mistake by Chuck Mayo (Donald Smock) who is Birdie's boy friend. When the real Birdie LaVerne appears everything is untangled. Mr. Arsdale gives his consent to Tom's and Barbara's marriage, and Sylvia is all wrapped up in the class poet, Alfred Tennyson Murgatoyd (Jerome Brady).

Between acts the audience was entertained by members of the Junior class. Helen May, Celesta Neal, and Blanche Wheeler did a tap dance; with Evelyn Sorenson at the piano. Donald Smock played the guitar and was accompanied by Ransom Murphy. Miss Berry directed the play and as usual it was a success in every way.

Alfred (Bud) Sorenson was the victim, last week, of a very peculiar "accident." It seems that Bud had a handful of matches in a hip pocket and while doing a little strenuous work, they accidentally became ignited. Naturally such an accident, aside from ruining a perfectly good pair of trousers, is very painful.

Mrs. Holger A. Hanson will be sent as a delegate to represent the W.H.M.S. at the annual Missionary convention to be held Friday, May 10th, at Millington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Millard brought home the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Sivrais Sunday after they had spent the winter partly in Flint and with their daughter Mrs. John Vaughn in Detroit.

We regret that in reporting the changes in the Michigan Central time schedule in our last week's issue we made an error in the time changes of the following trains: The southbound night train No. 202 arrives at 12:00 M. and leaves at 12:05 A. M. and the northbound early morning train No. 207, arrives at 5:35 and leaves at 5:45 o'clock. The time is eastern standard.

Eight little friends of Roy Milnes Jr. helped him celebrate his 5th birthday Thursday and they all had a big time together. Roy Jr. has a mind of his own and so insisted that his birthday cake be passed up for strawberry shortcake so that was served as the dessert course for the delicious lunch served by Mrs. Milnes. Roy Jr.'s guests included Bob Welsh, John Zoller, Ebern Olson Jr., Roger Gjebling, David Miller, Louis Kraus, and Freddie Heesli.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

The scholarship honors for the Senior class go to Jean Peterson and Beverly Schaible this year.

The Valedictorian and Salutatorian are chosen from each Senior class on a basis of work done during the four year high school course. Beverly Schaible won the rank of Valedictorian by a narrow margin from Jean Peterson who automatically becomes the class Salutatorian. These honors are worthwhile, and no small tribute to the consistency and quality of the work necessary to attain them.

The Juniors, with their play over, have turned their focus upon the annual Junior Prom. The date set for this event is May 31st. Keep it in mind. A clever orchestra has been signed and the Class of '36 promises a real party. Mr. Bond is their advisor.

A hard-ball game was played at the park Tuesday night. The Reds and the Blues tangled with the decision going to the Reds. Some real talent was revealed, as well as some early-season stuff. The winning pitcher was Lovely, losing pitcher Smock. Dr. Cook and Elmer Fenton "arbitrated" the affair.

The Hi-Y Club is sponsoring and running off a ping-pong tournament. Its going to be unlucky for someone. There's thirteen entries at present and some real competition in store.

School will close Thursday, June 13th. Class Night will, of course, be on Wednesday, the twelfth. The Seniors are planning their annual Friday holiday for May 24, and are plotting some real entertainment for themselves in Lansing. It ought to be not only entertaining but also of real value.

The Golf club house was opened Friday evening for a pot luck dinner. This was the first affair for the summer season. Thirty-two ladies and gentlemen were present in spite of snow which made the party seem like anything but a summer opening. But inside the club house, with a warm fire and lots of good food, all shivers were forgotten and "a nice time was had by all."

Mrs. Geo. Kraus of Chicago presented a beautiful silver golf cup to the Ladies Auxiliary for the winner of the handicap tournament.

The Ladies Auxiliary enjoyed their first pot luck Wednesday noon. Mrs. Roy Milnes, the president, presided at the business session. The ladies voted to plant 100 shrubs on the course. A committee was appointed to look into beautifying the caddy house.

Next week Wednesday, a golf tournament will be played at 2 o'clock if the weather permits.

Shepherds Ascend 18,000 Feet
The aviator who climbs to a height of 17,000 feet may die for lack of air without an oxygen tank. Yet shepherds in the Himalayas drive their flocks as high as 18,000 feet, villages flourish at 18,500 feet.
